Introduction

About Me

Hi there! I’m Rini.

I am a results-driven professional with over 10 years of deep experience in banking operations and financial data management. Known for maintaining 100% data accuracy while managing high-volume portfolios, my background has trained me to possess a very strong attention to detail and sharp analytical skills.

Beyond the corporate banking world, I am also an F&B business owner. Managing my own brand has given me hands-on expertise in digital marketing, social media operations, and managing distributed teams.

I combine the precision of a banker with the proactive mindset of an entrepreneur. I am excited to bring this unique blend of skills to remote Data Entry, Virtual Assistant, or Account Management roles where I can help your business grow smoothly!
