WORK ACHIEVEMENT

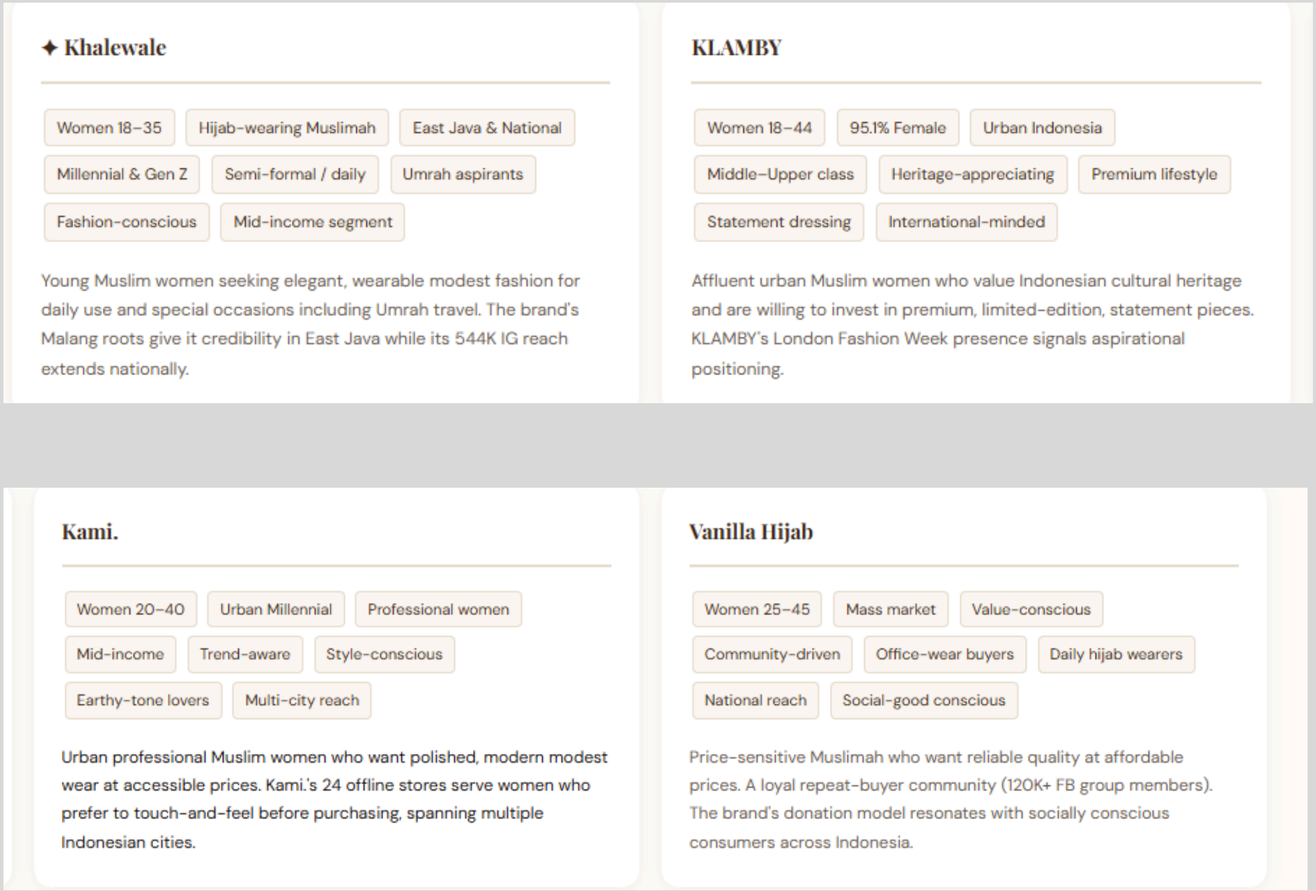

In my previous role as a Credit Analyst, I worked as an Assistant Team Leader responsible for identifying and researching potential market opportunities.

I analyzed market data and created a database of prospective customers to generate qualified leads, achieving a conversion rate of approximately 10%.

I was also responsible for following up with potential customers, identifying their financial needs, and building trust through effective communication. By understanding each customer's requirements, I was able to recommend suitable financial products and successfully convert prospects into customers.

MARKET RESEARCH

- KHALEWALE'S BRAND

KHALEWALE is superior to its competitors. The brand offers an elegant value proposition that sets it apart from other brands in the market. With its unique style, KHALEWALE successfully combines the principles of modest (syar'i) fashion with modern design. The brand has strong potential to expand its presence across Indonesia and into international markets.

LEAD MAGNET

Develop a lead magnet strategy to attract potential customers and collect their email addresses for KHALEWALE's customer database. The email list will be used to notify subscribers about new product launches, exclusive promotions, and brand updates. Segment the database to identify high-potential prospects and loyal customers, then provide personalized offers, including exclusive discounts and early access to new collections, to increase customer engagement and retention.

01

Expand Marketplace Presence — Especially Shopee

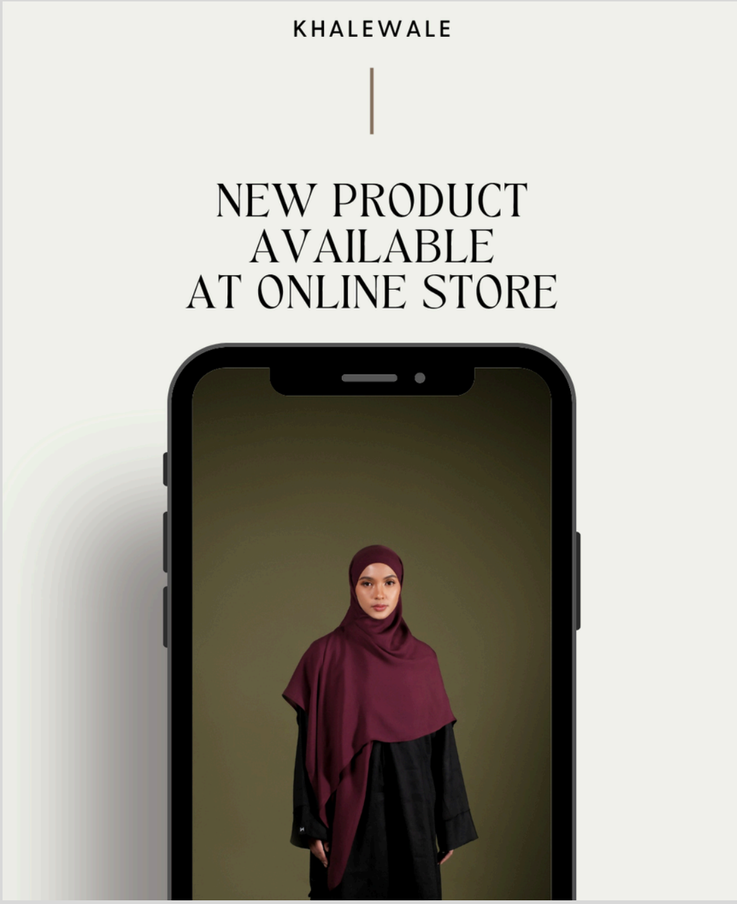

Shopee is Indonesia's highest-GMV marketplace. Khalewale's absence from Shopee, Blibli, and ZALORA leaves significant discovery volume untapped. Opening official Shopee Mall and ZALORA stores would give access to price-conscious buyers and formal fashion shoppers who already trust these platforms.

STRATEGIC RECOMENDATION

Own the "Umrah Fashion" Niche

No competitor has claimed the Umrah modest fashion segment as a brand pillar. Khalewale should create a dedicated Umrah Collection sub-line with targeted content: packing guides, fabric recommendations, Umrah OOTD series. This is a growing, high-intent, and high-spend audience that is underserved by mass-market competitors.
